Strip club plan gets cold shoulder

Zoning board denies second request for 'gentlemen's club'

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

The regulation of sexually-oriented businesses in the county will once again dominate the county's planning and zoning board's agenda this month. On Thursday, Commissioners voted unanimously to deny a special exception to Entertainment, LLC, on his request to build a strip club near Todd's on Hwy. 603. The decision had been tabled pending review of evidence.

Commissioner Lynn Bell made the motion to deny the request based on two criteria, she said. Froymmeyer had shown no evidence that the denial of the special exception would cause unnecessary hardship, and the location of the proposed club would be injurious to School bd. candidate may not be eligible

Some of Hawkins' signatures may be from wrong part of district

BY JOHN WATERMAN
Staff Writer

An election for an open seat on the Bay-Waveland school board may prove unnecessary, pending the verification of the necessary signatures that one candidate needs to be eligible to run.

Leo Hawkins, of Waveland, planned to run against Beth Keith for the board seat left open by Bob Allen, whose term ends after the Feb. 14 meeting.

While Hawkins was able to produce the 50 signatures needed to nominate him, some of the residents on his petition did not live in the correct district.

According to Ronnie Artigues, the board attorney, the Bay-Waveland school district is located within the municipality of Bay St. Louis, Waveland, and parts of Hancock County, are considered added

Beach plans

A five and a half mile beach renourishment project should get under way the middle of next week, said Jens Lorenz, a representative of Great Southern Dredging, a Covington company heading up the project. Equipment is arriving now at the Washington Avenue Pier and will be assembled over the next week and tested. The project will cover the beach front area from a jetty just west of Hwy. 90 all the way to just past Dane Road in Waveland. Renourishment efforts will vary with erosion damage and the engineer's survey, Lorenz said. Compton Engineering and county engineer Geoff Clemens will be overseeing the project. Work is scheduled to be completed April 30. (Echo photo by Bennie Shalibetter)

Hope Haven home looking to expand

Hope Haven, the non-profit shelter for abused and neglected children, is ten years old and wants to start their eleventh year by expanding its shelter to care for more children.

"Every year we turn away over 125 children because we don't have enough room for them," stated Margie Toups, board president. "We plan to add an extra bedroom and bath that will allow us to take in three more children. We will add a new kitchen, our current kitchen is only 8x10 feet and a dining area for the kids."

"We will also add a reception area where the social workers and newly arriving children can come into the shelter and be checked in without all the other children being in the same room. This will make it much easier for the children who enter as they are almost always very upset and traumatized."

The plans also call for the addition of an administrative office where the Director and administrative assistant/bookkeeper will work. Their current office is in the Hancock County Youth Court. The total addition is about 2,000 square feet and is contingent upon gaining approval from the city of Waveland and raising the remaining funds necessary.

The city of Waveland has been a great supporter of Hope Haven and we hope they will support this planned expansion," stated Terry Latham, Hope Haven Director. "I will be filing our plans and request the second week of February for their review and approval." The total costs of the expansion will be near

Latham. "We have some funds set aside for this project but we will need the help of all of our supporters and everyone in the community who cares about children to lend a hand via direct contributions, donations of in-kind supplies and materials and labor."

"The Gulf Coast community is known for its generosity and to make this project a success we need everyone who cares about abused and neglected children to step up and help us make this expansion a reality. If everyone were aware of the terrible things that happen to the children who seek shelter at Hope Haven they would be proud to help."

Latham stated that there is a strong possibility of some grant funds being made available by another non-profit organization on a dollar-for-dollar match basis.

To offer your help or to make donations of money, fixtures, building materials, labor or furniture, contact Hope Haven at 228-467-7945 or via their web site at <http://www.hopehavenshelter.org>.

Hope Haven is a State Licensed shelter and registered charity and a member of the United Way of South Ms. Donations are tax deductible.

City establishes new arts partnership

The City of Bay Saint Louis has established its second partnership for the Bay Arts initiative with print-maker Gwen Impson. Impson, a twenty-year printmaking professional joins master potter, Talle Johnson, in the development and implementation of the city's unique, "Teaching the Tewher" program.

Bay Saint Louis has taken underutilized space and developed a project that provides continuing education for local teachers, helping to keep the arts as part of the whole curriculum for students. The techniques in printmaking and pottery are taught so that they may be applied to all subjects, such as math, science, and history.

Early elementary grade teachers from Bay Saint Louis public schools are the first to be selected to participate in the classic Teachers will concentrate on one art form, but also have time for observation of the other and to interact with their peers in the casual Bay Arts forum.

"Our program is unique in our area and has attracted the attention of the Mississippi Arts Commission and other art and civic groups for adaptation. Bay Saint Louis is rich in its art heritage and Bay Arts is a way to insure that our artistic way of life continues," said Mike Cuevas, coordinator of the Bay Arts programs.

Each studio and the teaching curriculum is designed and developed by the partnership artists. Other partnerships may be developed for Bay Arts as those programs are fully established and working well within the educational and artistic community.

Mississippi Arts Commission Executive Director, Tim Hedgepeth, accompanied by Community-based programs director Beth Baton, cut the ribbon to open the new studio located at the rear of the Valena C. Jones Complex, 310 Old Spanish Trail. For more information on the classes available in printmaking, contact Impson, 228-467-1007 or Johnson, 228-463-1735 for pottery classes. Both instructors work with beginners through professionals in both artistic areas.

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

Only three more days are left of the 2005 Mardi Gras season, which ends so early this year.

Area parades today include the Annual St. Paul Carnival Association's parade in Pass Christian.

The Pass parade begins at noon and heads toward the Scenic Drive, the Highway 90 and then returns back to the central part of the city.

The St. Paul's parade is a very long one, as it usually has over 100 units and some a very large.

This is a family parade, with some families participating for several generations annually.

A spectator can catch lots of beads and throws at the Pass parade and there are many good viewing areas.

Also on Sunday, the D'Iberville, North Bay Mardi Gras Association's parade is scheduled for 2:30 p.m.

On Fat Tuesday, Mardi Gras Day, in Bay St. Louis the Krewe of Real People is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m.

The parade forms on Bookter Street, travels, Nacaise Avenue to Main Street, Main to Beach Boulevard, Beach to Union, then Blaize Avenue, Third Street to Washington, then to Old Spanish Trail to disband.

Royalty for the Krewe of Real People includes King Lexis Brent Haynes, Queen Betty Haynes and Connie Payne-Lamplsey, Captain.

The theme of Real Peoples Ball this year was "Secret Garden

Mystique of Far Away Lands."

Real People's parade usually had a large number of floats and plenty of beads and throws for spectators.

Also on Tuesday, the Biloxi, GCCA Morning parade is set for 11 a.m. and the Biloxi Krewe of Neptune at 2:30 p.m. and the Biloxi night parade at 5:30 p.m. In Gulfport, the Krewe of Gemini is set for 6 p.m.

I hope that everyone will have a Safe and Happy Mardi Gras.

An interesting Bill has passed the Senate Education Committee this week that would authorize the consolidation of the five school districts in neighboring Harrison County to one district.

This Bill could possibly turn into a statewide Bill by amendments and that could really cause a stir across the state.

As most folks know, Mississippi Legislators are in the process of seeking more ways of finding funding for education and in Harrison County it has been estimated there could be a savings of $2.5 million a year.

Now, if we take the 82 counties across the state, the millions could possibly increase quite a bit.

There are many counties with two school districts like Hancock, while there are also some counties that share districts with neighboring counties.

The change still has to go through many 'loops,' but, one never knows what will come out of Jackson.

Following the course of freedom

As we watch the aftermath of the elections in Iraq, let's remember that while our own American culture remains young, our course of freedom is not.

More than 225 years is a long time for any single form of government to last, but because our Founding Fathers had such a strong vision of liberty, our free republic not only has endured, it has become freedom's highest beacon, its standard of measure, freedom's unquestioned leader. Iraqis have just begun their course of freedom, and all free peoples should support their effort.

As Condoleezza Rice, the first female African American Secretary of State, noted upon her confirmation, it took time for America to live up to the ideals of freedom and liberty for its many types of people. Yet, because those ideals of freedom were ingrained in our Constitution, our course of freedom and full attainment of liberty's promise were set. The vision of a nation formed from many different peoples bound together by a common love of freedom was staked out long before our lifetimes or even our parents' or grandparents' lifetimes. The same is true for Iraq or for any new democracy. While it may take generations of nurturing, nations founded on and grounded in freedom will eventually overcome and prosper. Once free, folks rarely accept anything less, and that includes Iraqis.

The Iraqi elections this week surpassed expectations. An incredible 70 percent of eligible Iraqis voted, risking their lives and sending an unmistakable signal that Iraqis want to follow 30 years of Saddam's tyranny with freedom. As one newspaper noted, the Iraqi people indeed confounded their critics. Despite all that's been hurled against them for generations, they very actively and gladly participated in this historic leap forward - an opportunity for liberty brought to them by uniformed military men and women from America and a host of coalition partners who drove Saddam Hussein from power, denying the terrorist parasites yet another host country to plunder and subject to tyranny.

THE MISSISSIPPI SENATE PASSED A BILL NAMING THE ALLIGATOR THE STATE REPTILE.....

Take the wraps off crime reports

BY TIM KALICH
Greenwood Commonwealth

It would be hard to come up with a subject that interests more people more often than does crime.

Television news broadcasts routinely begin with crime stories because they will attract and hold the most viewers. If a crime of note occurs in Greenwood, it's a certainty that the next issue of this newspaper will be a big seller. People who may not make reading the paper a regular habit will suddenly pull out a couple of quarters to buy one from the newsstand.

When consumers of the news don't have the real thing to satisfy their appetite for tales about cops and criminals, they can depend on Hollywood to sate their curiosity. Consider the popularity and proliferation of the "CSI" TV shows and all their knock-offs. Realistic cop shows have been ratings winners since "Dragnet" popped on TV screens in the 1950s.

This interest in crime is not merely a fascination with the sinister, however. Citizens want to know how safe are their neighborhoods and anywhere else they or their families spend time.

Finding this out, though, can be a struggle in parts of Mississippi because of how much discretion police chiefs, sheriffs and other law-enforcement personnel have over what they tell and what they don't.

Mississippi has a Public Records Act that, in theory, is designed to provide citizens with access to documents that their government compiles.

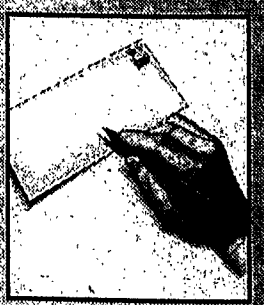

This sunshine law, however, is full of exemptions that hamper its effectiveness. One of those is the so-called "investigatory" exemption for some police records.

The argument for the exemption is that the wholesale release of information about a crime could compromise solving or prosecuting it.

Unfortunately, this investigatory exemption is often interpreted so broadly by lawmen that in some locales they use it to withhold from the public even the most basic details of a crime.

When a crime is reported to a law enforcement agency, it is common practice for the investigating officer to make a written report of the incident. In some parts of the state, these incident reports are shared freely with the press. In others, they're not. Both the Greenwood Police Department and the Leflore County Sheriff's Department fall under the latter category.

Police Chief Ronnie White and Sheriff Ricky

Banks are generally cooperative with this newspaper, but we know that we're not finding out about all the crimes that occur in this community due to the lack of access. When an arrest has been made, that puts our reporters on the alert because the arrest docket is unequivocally a public record. If no arrest has been made, however, the only way we learn a crime has been committed is if lawmen volunteer the information or we hear of it from other sources.

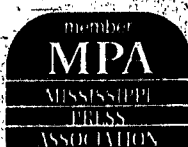

Just last week, a Greenwood police sergeant, trying to spark interest in a Neighborhood Watch program, dramatized the scope of the crime problem. He

Yet, rather than Americans teaching Iraqis a lesson in democracy, they're teaching us one - a lesson too many of us take for granted. That lesson is: While God intends for all people to be free, it is indeed still a privilege to live free and vote freely. While Americans let something as minor as rain impede us from voting, Iraqis snubbed the possibility of death or injury, bravely voting, and sending America a big "thank you" by their actions. We ought to remember their sacrifices and that of our military men and women in Iraq the next time we have the opportunity to vote.

So often, we dwell on democracy's shortcomings and the sometimes disorganized and dissenting chorus of competing voices which characterizes the democratic process.

Yet, as the President said in his inaugural address and again in his State of the Union speech, freedom is contagious. In just 20 years, the number of democrati-cal governments worldwide has gone from roughly 20 countries to more than 118, including places no one once would have dreamed would hold free elections - like the Ukraine, Poland and now Iraq.

Even with successful elections behind them, a lot of people think that Iraq is too splintered to succeed, that there are too many ethnic or religious differences for democracy to really take root there. They expect Iraq's new government will be short lived, and they'll continue to voice skepticism.

Well, that's what some folks thought almost exactly 190 years ago, when English naval and marine forces - many of them seasoned veterans who had fought Napoleon - sailed up the Mississippi Sound and headed for what they considered a contemptible little backwater town called New Orleans. They had just laid waste to the young American republic's new capital at Washington, D.C.

No one expected a few American troops, commanded by a gruff Tennesseean named Andrew Jackson, and a few hundred ragtag volunteers of native Americans, African-Americans, Creoles, and Mississippi farmers to join ranks, much less rout the King's formidable invaders. But they did.

Why? Because people yearn to live free, and once people are free, they'll come together, defy all odds and repeal any threat to freedom.

Freedom is never easily won, but once established, freedom lasts, spreads and chokes out tyranny. From our own experience, Americans know that the path to freedom, though very hard, is always the right course.

said that burglaries in this city have increased about 30 percent in the past two years. In 2004 alone, there were 250 home burglaries, he said. That information may come as a surprise to the public since reports of these crimes are not routinely made available.

Such lack of access is not unique to Greenwood. Leonard Van Slyke, attorney for the Mississippi Center for Freedom of Information, says the most frequent call he receives on the organization's hotline regards the withholding of incident reports. There have been instances where lawmen have refused to release the information as a way to shield friends or as retribution for press coverage they didn't like.

MCFOI is working with the Mississippi Press Association and Common Cause, a good-government advocacy group, to get the Legislature to clarify that incident reports are public record. I am serving as chairman this year of the press association's Government Affairs Committee and am involved in pushing for the legislation.

The legislation would not hamper the ability of investigators to withhold sensitive information such as the identity of confidential informants that could impede their work or endanger lives if it got out. It would, however, spell out which details the public has a right to immediately know, such as what happened, where and when it happened and, if charges are brought, who was involved.

The effort is meeting resistance, however, from the state Sheriffs, Association and some municipalities. Why?

The kindest explanation is a fear by lawmen of losing control of the flow of information.

The harshest explanation is that they and their bosses don't really want the public to know how bad the crime problem is, or to be able to check behind the crime statistics they release.

Voters tend to boot out sheriffs and mayors if they appear ineffective at fighting crime. Those who can't reduce the problem, however, should not be permitted to disguise the fact.

the surrounding area because of its close proximity to a residential subdivision.

Luke Lirot, attorney for Froymmeyer and for Magnolia 1 investors Kirk and Christine Ladner and Emmett Hotard, sent a written statement to the board asking that the decision be further delayed because of what he called improper notification that the decision was pending. Board attorney John Scaffidi advised board members that they were within their rights to go forward with a decision.

In related business a public hearing will be held on February 17 at 5 p.m. at the Hancock County Civic Center to discuss changing zoning ordinances which will regulate the location of sexually-oriented businesses.

In other business:

Hancock County building official Mickey Lagasse said Commissioners are discussing the possibility of adding several new zoning classifications. Public hearings on the proposals are likely to be held in March, he said. Proposed are three new classifications to R-1 zoning. An R-1-75 classification would mandate a front foot frontage of 75 feet, as current R-1 zoning requires. R-1-50 would rezone the Riverview subdivision to R-50, allowing a 50 foot frontage. R-1-100 would require a 100 foot frontage. Also proposed are two new industrial classifications I-2 would be heavy industrial and be a revamp of the old I-1 classification.

Commissioners approved preliminary plans for a town home development proposed by Shoreline Land Development on Bayou View East in Shoreline Park. At public hearings developers displayed plans for 22 double townhouse units that would be located on five acres. The project would also house a boat launch for resident's use and dedicated green areas. At the time of the hearing many nearby residents expressed their disapproval of the proposal. The area is zoned R-2.

Commissioners voted to approve a request to re-zone the White Cypress subdivision of Mallard Point, phases 1-6, to R-1. Residents had requested that the R-3 area be zoned R-2. The White Cypress subdivision of Quail Ridge, phases 1 and 2, will be rezoned from R-3 to R-2A. Other subdivisions within the White Cypress area will be considered for zoning changes after advertisement of intent, Commissioners said.

Changes were made based on recommendations by consultants, Hessel and Assoc.

Eight area recruits sign on National Signing Day

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
STAFF WRITER

National Signing Day 2005 was held Wednesday, February 2nd. And, it was a very good day for eight area high school seniors who signed National Letters of Intent to play at six different schools.

To take a different look at how impressive it is to make it to the next level of football, consider this. There are roughly 1.5 million high school football players in the country. Of that number, only about 110,000 get to play college football at the different levels. Of that 110,000 only about 250 are drafted into the NFL. To say the very least, these eight area players that signed on Wednesday are included in the top 7% of all high school players in the nation.

St. Stanislaus led the way with four of the signees - Michael Cure, Jordan Ellis, Lee Klein and Stefan Sofianos. Bay High had three players sign - Steven Dauenhauer, Brad Ladner and Lorenzo Lewis. Pass Christian's Brandon Miller was the other area signee.

The Rocks put four players into Division I football which was tops in the state. Furthermore, in a year where a high percentage of Mississippi's signees will not qualify to play, all four of SSC's signees are fully qualified.

Brother Ronald Hingle, S.C., principal of St. Stanislaus, commented, "We are extremely proud to have such outstanding institutions with equally great athletic programs interested in young men. They have distinguished themselves both in the classroom and on the field. I would like to pass a word of thanks to head coach Casey Wittmann and his entire staff for the great work they have done in preparing them for this next level of competition and life."

Michael Cure (5-10, 195), a senior strong safety for the Rocks, signed to play with the Big Green of Dartmouth College and the Ivy League. He chose Dartmouth College over Columbia University and Vanderbilt University.

Cure, the consummate student-athlete, has a 3.0 on the ACT and a 4.22 GPA. He led the Rocks with 4 INTs this season and was third on the team in tackles with 60. He is also the school's all-time leader in receptions (112), receiving yards (1,947) and touchdown receptions (16). From his strong safety position, he made 232 career total tackles and had 20 pass break-ups. Cure was the 2004 Sea Coast Echo Offensive Player of the Year and an All-State selection.

Jordan Ellis (6-2, 225) made firm on his previous verbal commitment by signing with the Green Wave of Tulane University and Conference USA. He chose Tulane over Army, Ole Miss and Mississippi State.

Ellis, full academic qualifier, was the second leading tackler for SSC with 107 stops and 268 in his career. He is expected to play linebacker and could possibly play early due to the lack of depth at that position for the Greenies. He was an first-team All-Sea Coast Echo and All-Division 8-4A selection.

Lee Klein (5-11, 215) accepted his appointment to the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs and will play football for the Falcons of the Mountain West Conference. He chose Air Force from a list of suitors that included the United States Naval Academy, the United States Military Academy at West Point, Vanderbilt University, Southern Illinois University, Delta State and Nicholls State.

Klein led the Rocks with 138 total tackles in 2004 and finished his career with 490. He is the school's all-time leader in tackles for loss with 55 for minus-182 yards. He is expected to play linebacker for the Falcons. Klein was the 2004 Sea Coast Echo Defensive Player of the Year and an All-State selection.

Stefan Sofianos (6-2, 190) also accepted his appointment to the United States Air Force Academy. When Sofianos and Klein endorsed their letters, it marked the first time in Air Force's history that two players from the same high school senior class signed to play football. He chose Air Force over Furman University, Ball State, Southern Illinois, Vanderbilt and USM.

Sofianos set the single-season record for receiving yards at SSC with 906 and touchdown receptions with 13 in 2004. He also claims the longest pass reception of 90 yards. Sofianos is expected to play wide receiver in Colorado Springs. He was a member of the first-team All-Sea Coast Echo team and an All-State selection.

SSC head football coach Casey Wittmann stated, "Our goal is to ensure that we prepare these young men for a great future. These institutions will now be able to offer that future to them. All the coaches, faculty, staff and alumni of St. Stanislaus can be proud of what these young men have accomplished."

The Bay High Tigers added three student-athletes to the next level of the gridiron. In fact, all three members of the Tigers' signing class are full academic qualifiers.

Bay High head coach Brennan Compretta commented, "It has been a pleasure coaching all three of these young men. Each one of them has what it takes to be successful on the field and in life. I am looking forward to watching them play at the next level. They were leaders on the field for us and will make us very proud."

Lorenzo Lewis (5-9, 175) signed to play for Mississippi Valley State University in Itta Bena. He chose Valley over Delta State University.

Lewis, a member of the first-team All-Sea Coast Echo team, was a spark for the Bay High Tigers in 2004. He played wide receiver, defensive back and was a return specialist. He accounted for 1,394 yards and 11 touchdowns in 2004. Lewis is expected to play wide receiver for MVSU.

Steven Dauenhauer (6-2, 220) inked with the defending national junior college champion Pearl River Community College Wildcats in Poplarville. He chose the Wildcats over Mississippi College. Rice University had also showed some interest in Dauenhauer.

He played wide receiver and defensive end for the Tigers in 2004 and had 23 catches for 311 yards and four scores. Dauenhauer was a first-team selection for the All-Sea Coast Echo team. He is expected to play linebacker for the Wildcats.

Brad Ladner (6-4, 215) also signed with PRCC Wildcats in Poplarville. He was also interested in Mississippi College and Rice University.

Ladner played tight end and defensive end for the Tigers and was a first-team selection for the All-Sea Coast Echo team. Ladner was second on the team in tackles with 75 and totaled eight quarterback sacks in 2004. He is expected to play defensive end for PRCC.

Brandon Miller (6-4, 240) of Pass Christian cast his lot with Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College. He was a first-team selection on the All-Sea Coast Echo team at tight end.

Miller caught nine passes for 101 yards and a score for the Pirates and also played defensive end.

Johnny Berry (PRCC, Picayune), Ervin Jackson (PRCC, Hancock) and Brad Steube (PRCC, Pass Christian) all signed with senior colleges after spending the past two seasons at PRCC.

Berry (6-3, 235), a linebacker for the national champs, signed to play with Southern University in Baton Rouge. Jackson (6-2, 195), defensive back, inked with Ohio University in Miami, Ohio. Steube (6-4, 290), an offensive lineman, chose Southeastern Louisiana University in Hammond.

The University of Tennessee appeared to have won the recruiting battle in Division I as the Volunteers have the #1-ranked recruiting class by Scout.com. The Southeastern Conference was the top-rated conference as they placed eight member universities in the top 30. Georgia was ranked #5 followed by, Florida (#11), Alabama (#16), South Carolina (#19), LSU (#20), Auburn (#22) and Ole Miss (#28). Mississippi State rated #39 while USM in Hattiesburg was #66.

LSU received the signature of the nation's top recruit in East St. John quarterback Ryan Perilloux who chose the Tigers over Texas and Mississippi State.

Mississippi State can lay claim to the top honors for in-state recruiting as they signed six of the top 10 including the top-rated prospect in South Panola's Derrick Pegues.

Ole Miss signed two five-star players of their own in OL Michael Oher of Briarcrest in Memphis. The 6-5, 330lb giant is expected to make an immediate impact for the Rebels. He is the top rated offensive lineman in the nation.

Jerrell Powe of Wayne County is also a five-star player who signed with Ole Miss. The 6-3, 335lb defensive lineman is one of top five rated players at his position and is the only Mississippian named to the Parade All-American team.

USM signed one four-star player and two three-star players in their class. The top Mississippi steals for USM are DB Austin Divinity of Hinds and DB Eddie Hicks of Clarksdale.

OLA wins sixth consecutive state title

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
STAFF WRITER

OLA (20-5-2) won an unprecedented sixth consecutive state soccer title in Class 1A-2A-3A with their thrilling 2-1 win over the Lady Irish of Greenville-St. Joe. The game was played at Alumni Field on the campus of Millsaps College in Jackson.

OLA's first state title in 2000 also came against Greenville-St. Joe in a 1-0 win. During the next three title years, OLA defeated St. Andrew's for the state title 2-0 (2001), 2-0 (2002), and 1-0 (2003). Last year the Crescents battled West Lauderdale for the title winning 2-1 in overtime.

The Crescents are the high school girls' version of the 1980s San Francisco 49ers or today's New England Patriots.

There were two OLA seniors who have experienced all six of OLA's titles. Jane Covington and Nikki Harshbarger have been playing varsity soccer since the seventh grade. Covington stated, "Winning a state title never gets dull. Coming in we didn't want to know anything different. We just needed to stay focused and go out to prove to everyone that this is not an off year."

Harshbarger added, "We played with a lot of heart and adrenaline tonight. We have worked hard all year and we didn't want to blow all that we had accomplished tonight. We feel very fortunate that all six of our years at OLA have ended this way. It is something very special."

Other notable streaks in the state of Mississippi are the 11 consecutive state cross country state titles by the St. Andrews of Jackson boys and girls team, the 11 consecutive state cross country titles by the Ocean Springs Lady Greyhounds and the seven consecutive (12 overall) state basketball championships by the Harrison Central Red Rebelettes.

Barely two minutes into the game, OLA took a 1-0 lead over St. Joe when Lauren Rittner burned the net with her shot off an assist by Ellie Dauterive.

The lead lasted until St. Joe got on the board with a shot by La'Toyla Slay with 4:54 remaining in the first half. At intermission, the two teams were deadlocked at 1-1.

In the second half, the Crescents came out aggressive and stayed on the off-sive most of the half.

With 28:45 left to play in the game, Lauren Renz ripped the net off an assist by Rittner to give the Crescents a lead they would not relinquish and the state title. Renz's goal was her 24th of the season which lead the team.

With 9:37 left in the game, OLA appeared to have scored third goal; however, it was waved off due to a late offside call. The final score was 2-1 in favor of the Crescents.

OLA head coach Danny Owens stated, "Our team motto this year has been 'Whatever it takes!' Tonight, whatever we had to do to win. This has been a great run and a lot of fun. This feeling never gets old."

Our Lady Academy had the first girls high school soccer program in the state of Mississippi in 1990. At that time, they had to travel out of state to play their opponents. To some degree, that has remained the same. In 2004-05, the Crescents were undefeated against Mississippi competition.

The Crescents have been one of the, if not the most dominant, teams in soccer for either boys or girls in Mississippi for the better part of a decade.

VT Halter to build third fisheries vessel for NOAA

VT Halter Marine, Inc., a subsidiary of Vision Technologies Systems, Inc., has announced that it will build another Fisheries Survey Vessel for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. NOAA exercised its option for the third of four planned vessels under an existing contract. This vessel is valued at approximately $38 million. VT Halter Marine designed the 208' FSVs in accordance with strict guidelines for acoustic quieting set by the International Council for Exploration of the Seas. The first ship in the class-Oscar Dyson was delivered to NOAA on January 5, 2005 and is one of the most technologically advanced fisheries ships in the world. These NOAA sister ships, with a cutting-edge low acoustic signature, will have the ability to perform hydro-acoustic surveys of fish. They will also be able to conduct bottom and mid-water trawls while running physical and biological-oceanographic sampling during a single deployment—a combined capability unavailable in the private sector.

When completed, the ship will be home ported at the NOAA National Marine Fisheries Service Mississippi Laboratory in Pascagoula, Miss. along with NOAA ships Oregon 11 and Gordon Gunter.

Bay surgeon offers new technology for diagnosing digestive diseases

Bay St. Louis general surgeon Brian Anthony offers patients an alternative to invasive scopes and anesthesia. Using a new technology called capsule endoscopy, Dr. Anthony can examine a patient's esophagus or small bowel by way of a miniature video camera housed in a vitamin-sized pill.

The PillCam Eso® permits noninvasive and painless examination of the esophagus (or food pipe) for detection of acid reflux and other diseases.

The PillCam SB® allows examination of the small bowel to detect tumors or to determine the cause of bleeding. Traditional diagnostic procedures are invasive, sometimes uncomfortable, and involve light anesthesia.

Often in a traditional examination of the small bowel, poor quality data resulted in repeat tests, said Dr. Anthony, as most areas of the 21 feet of small intestines were inaccessible. High quality data can now be gathered during a single ambulatory visit with the new technology.

The PillCams® use video technology to capture a multitude of high-quality images during the journey through a patient's digestive tract. After swallowing the disposable camera pill, the patient is able to resume normal activities while the images are recorded in a data recorder worn around the waist. No anesthesia is required.

The images are later downloaded into a computer for detailed analysis by the physician. For additional information, visit www.givenimaging.com or call Dr. Anthony at Beach Surgical Group, 228-467-1386.

King Akua Kai XXXI Al Grace and Queen Josette Grace

D'head Boaters crown Mardi Gras royalty

BY KATHY WOOD

The Diamondhead Boaters Association presented its annual coronation ball on January 6, 2005 at the Diamondhead Country Club. Master of ceremonies Lloyd Ramirez welcomed members and guests to the krewe's thirtieth coronation ball. To the tune of "Bourbon Street Parade", the court and their spouses handed out beads to guests throughout the ballroom. Queen Jamie Valigosky escorted by Equerry Jerry Gillen made one last promenade to the strains of "If Ever I Cease to Love". After all were seated Queen Jamie announced the recipient of the Dolphin Award which goes to the individual who has gone above and beyond the call of duty working for a better Boaters Association. Lady Phil Gillen was the honored winner.

Following the coronation of King Akua Kai XXXI and Queen Josette, toasts were made all around. Queen Josette was regally attired in a strapless full-skirted gown of black tulle, embellished with rose beading and cascades of crocheted rosecolored flowers with pale green leaves. Her shoulders were covered with a black marabou shrug. King Al was resplendent in off-black pin stripe tails. A New Orleans Courtyard was the theme of this year's ball. The stage was decorated with lattice-work and greenery depicting a courtyard. The tables were set with elegant mirrored wrought iron centerpieces.

Commodore Kathy Wood presented the goblets from the Krewe to the new monarchs. Vice Commodore Bob Gonzalez presented the royal colors and Regina-in-charge Marica Frisina presented the AM medallions.

The three board members from Bay St. Louis are appointed, Artigues said. The remaining two from the added territories are elected. To be eligible to run, the candidate must have signatures from registered voters in the added territories only.

Since the Jan. 21 deadline has passed, Hawkins will not be able to acquire additional signatures. The board meeting on Feb. 14 will vote to determine his eligibility.

Both Artigues and Superintendent Kim Stasny said that no determination had been made yet.

"It's really (early) to say that he's not going to be a candidate," Stasny said.

Artigues said that if

Hawkins could establish that the signatures on his list were registered voters, he would be eligible to run.

"If he comes in here with voter ID cards, we'll give him the benefit of the doubt."

Artigues added that the boundary lines of the Bay-Waveland school district have been a source of confusion for many people. Several apartment complexes on Waveland Ave. lie right on the boundary line with the Hancock School District.

"Every August, if children register to go to school we have to find which district the individual apartment lies in."

Hawkins could not be reached for comment.

Favre foundation plans night of 'Faith' in Biloxi

BY KATHY HANRAHAN
Associated Press Writer

Deanna Favre has faith. Since being diagnosed with breast cancer last year, the 36-year-old wife of the Green Bay Packers quarterback Brett Favre wears a bracelet in support of breast cancer awareness with the words "Hope, Faith and Love."

"She spends her whole life helping other people. Everything is about faith, family, friends; basically in that order," said Beth Seymour, executive director of the Brett Favre Fourward Foundation.

Although the couple normally hosts a charity dinner at their Hattiesburg home each year, Seymour said the foundation decided to do things a little differently this year.

Seymour said the board selected a larger location, the Grand Casino in Biloxi, and a big name entertainer, Faith Hill.

"Because Deanna has so much faith and she loves Faith Hill, I thought it couldn't be more perfect," Seymour said.

Hill, a native of Star Miss., agreed to be the headlining performer for free, Seymour said.

"A Night of Faith," on March 12, will help the foundation raise money for underinsured and uninsured breast cancer patients across the Gulf Coast.

"To me you can take that two different ways, with Faith performing and with Deanna's faith. It just worked perfectly," Seymour said. The proceeds will be divided between the Gulfport Memorial Hospital and the Forrest General Hospital in Hattiesburg.

The black tie event will also include a celebrity auction featuring Brett Favre's Hummer and an autographed Super Bowl helmet from the late Reggie White.

"One of the first people that I told about this event was Reggie White the Friday before he died and he and his wife were going to come to the event," Seymour said.

White was supposed to give the invocation at the event.

A Wisconsin artist has also been tapped to paint scenes from the evening.

In previous years, the Grand Casino has been involved with the foundation's annual Celebrity Golf Tournament, where Hill's husband Tim McGraw regularly performs.

Susan Walker, director of community affairs for Grand Casino in Biloxi, said the casino has donated the use of the theater for the event.

Walker, who also serves on the foundation's board, said the event was officially confirmed two weeks ago, with ticket sales beginning just last week.

The tickets, $500 per ticket on the floor and $100 for balcony, are reportedly the same price that the couple has charged at previous fund-raiser dinners.

Seymour believes this event will bring in even more money do to its star power.

The Brett Favre Fourward Foundation, started in 1996, has raised $1.3 million for charities in Mississippi and Wisconsin. Walker said that the Favres are establishing a million dollar endowment so their children will always have funds to donate to charitable organizations.

According to the American Cancer Society, more than 2 million women living in the U.S. have been diagnosed or treated for breast cancer.

Gilmore chosen for governor's teacher council

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Governor Haley Barbour has chosen Lynda Caldwell Gilmore of The Bay-Waveland School District to serve on the Governor's Teacher Advisory Council, a bi-partisan teacher-only group that will share ideas on educational issues with the State's top executive.

"I am very pleased that Lynda has agreed to participate on this council," said Governor Barbour. "I want to listen and learn from teachers on issues related to the classroom and encourage them to be innovative in promoting student achievement. This dialogue is a step towards that goal."

Lynda Gilmore, employed by the Bay-Waveland School District since 1988, is presently serving as Math Department Chairperson. She is responsible for teaching Algebra 1 and other assigned math subjects to students in the 9th-12th grades. As a member of the Mississippi Council of Teachers of Mathematics and the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, Lynda has been the Math department representative to the National Convention many times. At Bay High she has been responsible for curriculum development, organized and presented training programs for math department staff, and is a Mentor for new teachers. She has served on SACS Committee, has been Tandy Teacher of the Year and is listed among Who's Who Among America's Teachers. Presently Lynda is serving as President of Delta Kappa Gamma Society International. Active in her church, Lynda is a Past President of the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Diocese of Mississippi. She is the wife of Gary Gilmore, Hancock County District 3 Election Commissioner. They have four grown children, and five grandchildren.

"The most important component of our schools is the teacher in the classroom. That's why I want to hear from them," said Governor Barbour.

"Education is the number one quality of life issue in Mississippi, and it is the number one economic development issue."

"That's why it's vital that teachers participate and help."

THIS DEVOTED BUSINESS

Persistence In Prayer

In the Bible, Jesus asks His disciples, "Which of you who has a friend will go to him at midnight and say to him, 'Friend, lend me three loaves; for a friend of mine has arrived on a journey and I have nothing to set before him'; and he will answer from within, 'Do not bother me; the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot get up and give you anything'? Yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him whatever he needs" (Luke 11:5-8). This example that Jesus gives us is a good reminder of how we should be persistent in our prayers. And although I have heard it said that once we pray for something, we can forget about our prayer request because we have turned it over to God, this attitude may not be appropriate in all cases. Because, like the man requesting the three loaves, we should be persistent with our prayers when we are faced with a concerning situation that remains with us. Praying for months or even years for various situations is sometimes necessary. For example, because of their love, many parents will pray a lifetime for their children's safety and well-being. We should always be aware that we are God's children and He is faithful to those who love Him and seek His help in prayer.

But for thee, O Lord, do I wait; it is thou,
O Lord my God, who wilt answer.
R.S.V. Psalm 38:15

AREA DEVOTIONAL & DIRECTORY PAGES

The sum of our days is 27,000

The sum of our days is 27,000, as reckoned in 74 years. At the age of 73, Buddy Diliberto almost made it up to the average allotment of our years here in America.

Dale Brown, legendary basketball coach of the LSU Tigers, was commenting in his own inimitable way on the earthly passing of his longtime friend, sportscaster Bernard "Buddy" Diliberto of WWL radio in New Orleans. Who else would speak of 27,000 days when describing the lifetime package given us by our Creator?

Of course, we understand that Dale Brown was referring to white males when he spoke about the average life span of American men. Unfortunately, the average life span of black men is not at the white level of 75, but only 68.6.

For the curious, who are most of us, the average life span of American white women stands at 80.2, while that of black women is 75.5. Although both white and black women do better than both races of men, blacks as a whole are solidly behind in both categories.

Somewhat somber and melancholy are two words we can use to describe the plight of black women and especially black men. Yet, there is distinct hope in their situation, given the fact that there is no reason to believe genes are to blame for their shorter life span.

Visions of The Greasy Spoon or some similar health-defying eatery are immediately conjured up whenever we think of hypertension, heart disease, diabetes, prostate trouble or peripheral arterial disease (PAD) which are rife in the black community.

We call The Greasy Spoon type of eats soul food. Well, it must be soul food, because it certainly does not benefit the body except for the initial pluses of great aroma, exciting taste and a general feeling of well-being which settles upon the soul food diners.

Au contraire, the world-famous soul food, contrived by slaves and their descendants largely from the traditionally discarded parts of hogs and cattle, is notorious for triggering hypertension, heart disease, diabetes and peripheral arterial disease. In a way, it's really a shame that food which tastes so good and has such a rich history involved in its origins is such a catalyst for deadly diseases. It is one of the cruel ironies of cuisine and health that we cannot eat our soul food without severe consequences.

I can truly commiserate with all lovers of soul food, because there was a time when I partook of some of it with gusto, enjoying it immensely, and considering it one of the tastiest of all classes of foods given to us for our nourishment and eating pleasure.

Lurking forever in the recesses of my memories is the taste of hog crackling corn bread which had such a greasy, exotic flavor that it seemed sent from heaven.

that good had to be unhealthy. So I refused to eat it after trying it twice over fifty years ago.

Unfortunately, most people do not allow health considerations to interfere with their drooling pursuit of lip-smacking cuisines of sundry foods and preparations. "Eat now, pay later," might be their unspoken, perhaps unconscious, slogan for selecting foods.

As we cruise into another Mardi Gras celebration followed by the strictures of Ash Wednesday and the ensuing 40 days of Lent, it is most curious to view and review the landscape of soul food and all food devotees in pursuit of their mouth-watering menus.

Granted, we see some encouraging signs of health outreach in numerous people who are beginning to add tossed salad and vegetables to their meat-heavy fare. Many banquets and various kinds of repasts are reflecting this new health awakening and awareness.

Still, there are all too many private and public meals which feature meats, starches and sweets with virtually no vegetables and salads, except the fattening but wildly-popular and ubiquitous potato salad. It is utterly distressing to survey the offerings of a meal while counting a total of three, four, five or even six starches in one form or other.

In their own unique world of foods, diabetics have to view such meals as the enemy, since they are allowed only three breads (starches) a day. Some of these diabetics have the serious misfortune of living - and eating - in a home where starches, fats, sweets and a dazzling variety of meats are the regular order of the day.

Statement after statement by hungry diners who let their enthusiastic eating do the talking informs us that the vast majority of people place a much higher premium on the culinary dynamic of smell, sight and taste than on the dictates of a healthy body.

Lent is a countercultural season which challenges the basic fallacies and health dangers involved in pursuing the ecstasies of fats, sweets and salts embodied in most meats, most seafoods, most dairy products and most of their derivatives such as eggs and cheese.

By this time, I know many of you readers are thinking that this is too much of a blanket condemnation. Moreover, there is such a thing as moderation which avoids the worst effects of most animal products and allows people to enjoy them with impunity.

And they are right. If everyone would employ a very sober moderation in all their pursuits in the world of foods, there would be few health problems among us and medical doctors would have a hard time finding patients and making a good living.

Aside from those less fortunate individuals whose juvenile diabetes or other diseases mandate that they follow a food regimen much stricter than mere moderation, it is possible to eat well and healthily by following disciplined moderation in everything.

The season of Lent underscores the problems most people have in the pursuit of moderation. Without Lent's formal structure of abstinence, restraint and reduction, few people are able to summon the will power and determination to deny themselves.

Especially after the joys of eating king cakes and celebrating Fat Tuesday, Lent is generally viewed as the enemy, the wet blanket ruining all our fun. In reality, Lent is a season of great opportunities for establishing the proverbial "sound mind in a sound body," achieving serenity by nurturing both physical and spiritual health in our lives.

Scripture Says...

Praise & Worship hour

As you enter the church door a program is handed to you that says "welcome to the praise and worship hour."

Songs are sung and prayers are prayed and a sermon is delivered. Time spend there: one hour, to the minute.

This is usually all the praise and worship the almighty will receive that week. To many churchgoers, their religious obligations have been fulfilled.

However, praises and admiration for the Lord should be done everyday. A morning or night should not pass without telling the Lord how grateful we are for His love toward us.

Having a personal, private, intimate talk with the Lord is what the Almighty looks forward to.

This writer has come to believe that our Heavenly Father wants us to realize how much He really cares for us. As humans, we simply can't conceive the Creator desires such a close relationship.

David the shepherd lad, David, the King of Israel, knew the heart of God; when he wrote "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want. He make me to lie down in green pastures, he leads me beside the still waters, he restores my soul. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life. And I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever." (Psalm 23.6)

We are something special to God. Think of Calvary's Cross. Notice the whipping post His son was tied to.

Can we not realize He desires our praise and worship not just on Sunday?

Thanks to the efforts of Brother Henry of St. Stanislaus, St. Clare school is visited every year by a group of Seminarians from St. John Vianney St. Paul MN. These young men, who are studying for the priesthood, come with open hearts and helping hands to do just about any job they were asked. The students of St. Clare benefit greatly from their visit. They are treated to new songs for Mass, new ideas and ways of delivering the Catholic message, plenty of playing time of the playground and often as not many areas of the school get a facelift. The Seminarians gave a special "extra" lift to the final day of their visit by performing a chant of adoration to Mary written by St. Thomas Aquinas and then leading all the church in the recessional hymn Yes, Lord, Yes Lord. Above: Seminarians from St. Paul Vianney chant during the student liturgy at St. Clare School. Left to Right: Nicholas Mullerkey, Andrew Stueve, James Schultze, Jacob Niemand, Justin Clausse, Nicholas VanDenBroeke, Isaac Haas.

The Sea Coast Echo

Hancock's Local Newspaper since 1892

Advertising is an investment in the success of your business. Every business has some kind of competition, either within the town, nearby city or from mail order firms. Your potential customers are being courted by your competitors. If you do not invite those customers to do business with you, they are likely to forget you and buy elsewhere. It is not uncommon for consumers to switch their trading from one store to another. Advertising helps to keep old customers and equally as important, make new ones.

Our community is constantly growing which means that potential customers are moving into the market area all the time. Advertising gives these newcomers a reason to visit your store.

Most businesses budget for their advertising expenses just as they do for other necessities such as rent, phones, etc. Smart business people realize that advertising is imperative to keep their business growing.

Another reason to advertise is that advertising is news! You profit by telling our readers what is new in your store. Through advertising, you can let a wide audience know the product lines you carry, the quality of your merchandise, the completeness of your service and the character of your store.

If you have something to sell, then you have something to advertise. When you have nothing to advertise, you are out of business. Advertising is designed to build your business and works best when it is repeated regularly. Consistent advertising pays off!

Now that you know some of the reasons to advertise, you're probably wondering how you can advertise most effectively. Surveys show that ads in local newspapers have more impact than in any other medium. The Sea Coast Echo goes into the majority of the homes in Hancock County. The Sea Coast Echo is full of interesting reading, it is a part of our community. People like to read about people and The Sea Coast Echo is full of pictures and stories about local people. The most important reason to advertise in The Sea Coast Echo is that our readers are your customers.

If you're looking for the best advertising value for your money, then you should contact the advertising department at The Sea Coast Echo. One of our advertising representatives will be happy to discuss the many advertising options offered by The Sea Coast Echo. For more information you may call 467-5474, Monday through Friday 8am to 5pm, or stop by our office at 124 Court Street, Bay St. Louis.

Since 1892, The Sea Coast Echo is proud to be a part of your community

Vinton enthralls Casino Magic BSL audiences

Born in Canonsburg, Pennsylvania in 1935, Vinton's Pennsylvania Polish roots set him apart from the many Italian crooners of the early Sixties. With a bandleader, Stan

Vinton, for a father, Bobby Vinton got the support and training he needed to make the best use of his vocal talents. The band he started at age 16 earned enough to pay for part of his education at Duquesne University.

Just as people began to suspect that his hit-making days were numbered, Vinton pulled "My Melody of Love" from his bag of tricks in 1974. This #3 hit endeared him to the Polish population of the entire United States with its chorus in Polish. Live shows followed in Vegas, Atlantic City and, eventually, to Branson, Missouri: Vinton now has his own venue in Branson, the Bobby Vinton Theatre. He chose to pattern his new theatre building after the old Hollywood

On Feb. 12, the Old Town Art Market at Serenity Place in Old Town Bay St. Louis will open its doors for the first time. This brand new and unique addition to the thriving arts community located on the Mississippi Gulf Coast will present 14 "intimate gallery spaces" with the potential for up to 28 artists to exhibit their work each and every weekend.

The Old Town Art Market at Serenity Place, located at 126 Main Street, will be open every weekend following its debut.

For a nominal fee, both local and regional artists will appropriate areas in the rear of the spacious building, which formerly housed Serenity Gallery. On Saturdays and Sundays, the artists will exhibit their work, bringing variety and fresh talent to a group of 50-some artists who are regular exhibitors at Serenity Place as part of The Artists and Shops of Serenity Place.

Serenity Place owners Dave Moynan and John Brennan are responsible for bringing the Art Market to the area. The hours of operation for the Old Town Art Market are 10 a.m.-5 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays, and 10am-8pm the second Saturday of each month for the Second Saturday Artwalk.

Artists and Shops of Serenity Place are open daily from 10 a.m.-6 p.m. For more information, contact John Brennan or Dave Moynan at 228.463.1670, or email them at maggiemavs@bellsouth.net.

'Family Guy' creator returns with kooky 'American Dad'

By John Crook
© Zap2it

An overzealous CIA agent who sees a terrorist behind every bush goes to extreme lengths to keep family and homeland secure in "American Dad," a subversive and fitfully funny animated sitcom premiering Sunday, Feb. 6, on Fox.

The series springs from the feverish lunhouse mind of Seth MacFarlane, the animation prodigy whose last family sitcom, "Family Guy," included in its cast of characters a talking dog with a drinking problem and, most memorably, a power-mad toddler named Stewie, who inexplicably spoke in a clipped British accent.

Still, the Smith household in "American Dad" makes the Griffin clan of "Family Guy" look like the very picture of normalcy.

Meet husband and father Stan Smith of Langley Falls, Va., a Type A weapons expert who constantly monitors and updates the terror alert dial taped to his refrigerator. "We're at terror alert orange, which means something might go down somewhere, in some way, at some point in time, so look sharp!" he tells his family.

In addition to tolerant wife Francine, the Smith clan also includes left-leaning daughter Hayley, 18, and her brother, Steve, a 13-year-old science geek.

Offbeat houseguests include Klaus, a randy, German-speaking goldfish (the result of a covert government gambit gone horribly wrong), and the scene-stealing Roger, a sarcastic extraterrestrial who has an addiction to junk food and lives in the Smith attic.

In the opener, nerdy Steve spins wildly out of control when he tries to parlay a student-body presidency into romantic capital; Roger - whom Francine has put on a strict diet after his weight balloons - ghostwrites terms papers for Hayley in exchange for under-the-table Twinkies, Ho Hos and Pecan Sandies.

The series milks everything from toilet jokes to savvy pop-culture wisecracks in its quest for laughs, and viewers will either get on board with the free-wheeling comedy or not. For now, it's anyone's guess whether they'll find "Dad" a dud or a delight.

Horoscope This Week

Feb. 6 through Feb. 12, 2005

Aries (March 21 - April 20)

You'll have renewed vigor when it comes to your career, and just in time, too. Something good is coming your way.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)

If you're itching to travel, then make it happen. There's a lot of world out there you haven't seen, but should.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)

Get things taken care of before someone else does it for you. You'll be more satisfied with the results if you see to it yourself.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)

It's time to put yourself out there relationship-wise. Express yourself, but be careful of coming on too strong.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)

While lions sometimes like to be lazy, they also make sure they get exercise. You should follow the example of your animal counterpart.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

A drive to make something that will wow everyone prevents you from getting anything else done. Just do it and get back to work.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

If you are looking for a new home, this is the time to start your search. You could find just what you want in record time.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)

A very important part of your communication style will make itself evident. Take note of this and use it when you really need to get a point across.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)

When you want something, you usually get it. This time, consult with someone else. Your needs aren't always the most important.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

People will see that you've come into your own and with that, they'll give you their respect. Finally, some appreciation.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

Who's to say it's not good to keep secrets? Sometimes, you have to figure out what the truth is before you can reveal it.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)

The need to socialize is high on your priority list, and with good reason. You've been working so much, people almost forgot how much fun you are.

"NFL Football" Sunday, Feb. 6 (Fox, 6 p.m. ET): No matter how the game turns out, you can bet Fox and the NFL will be extremely careful with this year's Super Bowl halftime show, given the infamous Justin Timberlake-Janet Jackson "wardrobe malfunction" that overshadowed the New England Patriots' 2004 defeat of the Carolina Panthers. They've gone with at least one safe choice: Paul McCartney, whose pregame performance at the post-9/11 Super Bowl XXXVI was not only wholesome, but healing.

"College Basketball" Wednesday, Feb. 9 (ESPN, 9 p.m. ET): Another chapter is written tonight in the storied rivalry between Duke and North Carolina, one that Dick Vitale might be tempted to describe as a knee-knock-out full of P.T.P.-ers (translated: a close game contested by prime-time players). Two more nail-biters characterized Duke's sweep of Rashad McCants and Carolina last season, extending their dominance to 14 wins in 16 games against the Heels. Adding another one could give the Blue Devils a leg up in the ACC.

"NASCAR Racing" Saturday, Feb. 12 (Fox, 8 p.m. ET): Before getting down to the serious business of Daytona 500 preparation and Nextel Cup points collecting, NASCAR's top drivers compete in the Budweiser Shootout, an all-star race featuring 2004's pole winners and past Shootout winners. Among those seeking a cut of the $1 million-plus purse are Nextel Cup defending champion Kurt Busch, Jeff Gordon, Dale Earnhardt Jr., Ryan Newman and Jimmie Johnson. The 70-lap race covers 175 miles at Daytona International Speedway.

Grant Show

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

The show's title is meant to be ironic, but so far, "Point Pleasant" has been pleasant indeed for Grant Show.

Remembered by "Melrose Place" fans as studly Jake Hanson, the actor is back on Fox in the eerie new Thursday series from producers of "Buffy the Vampire Slayer" and "Tru Calling." The title site is a once-quiet New Jersey town unsettled by the arrivals of the devil's daughter (Elisabeth Harnois) and the emissary of evil (Show) who watches over her. "I wasn't in the original pilot," Show says, "and I was sent such a terrible copy of it, I didn't think much of it at all. It was all grainy and I couldn't tell one character from the next. When I read the first script beyond that, though, I thought it was great. My character is one in a million; it's very rare that you get to play somebody like this on television."

"He sold his soul to the devil," Show explains of his "Point Pleasant" character, Lucas Boyd, "so he's pretty much the right-hand man. He's supposed to influence this girl to follow her darker path, to get her to lose faith in humanity."

"They're really doing a good job of giving this guy some depth. As much as this is what he's devoted himself to, he's still human, so he's somewhat melancholy every time he wins. It reinforces his own lack of faith in humanity, and he's bummed about that."

Show also stars opposite Gail O'Grady ("American Dreams") again in the new Lifetime movie sequel "More Sex & the Single Mom," which premieres Monday, Feb. 7, and it's a good thing he finished it before starting the series. "So far," he reports, "they have me doing more work on this than I did on 'Melrose Place.'"

Uptight not right in Terry Bradshaw's big-game view

By George Dickie
© Zap2it

For Terry Bradshaw, winner of four Super Bowls as quarterback of the dominant Pittsburgh Steeler teams of the 1970s, staying loose before the big game was the key to winning. "Those that are uptight, no matter how good they are or even if they're heavily favored, nine times out of 10, in my opinion, they're not going to win, because you just can't play those games like that," says Bradshaw, who will provide pregame analysis alongside James Brown, Howie Long and Jimmy Johnson for Fox's coverage of Super Bowl XXXIX. Joe Buck, Cris Collinsworth and Troy Aikman call the game live from Alltel Stadium in Jacksonville, Fla., on Sunday, Feb. 6.

"You can't allow that game to be a Super Bowl game," Bradshaw says. "You hear players say, 'We're going to treat it like another game.' And really and truthfully, as corny and cliched as that is, that's their thinking. You know, you don't want to talk about it a lot. You want to be isolated. You know what's at stake. You're not stupid. You're playing in the biggest game, and it's your defining moment. So if you're uptight..."

It's been 30 years since Bradshaw and the Steelers reeled off the first of four Super Bowl victories, and for the 56-year-old Louisianian, it feels like it.

The first title game, Super Bowl IX in 1975, amounted to a defensive struggle between Pittsburgh and the AFC champion Minnesota Vikings. Bradshaw recalls that the Vikings entered the game as the favorites, but the Steelers won 16-6, thanks to the play of their "Steel Curtain" defensive line and the running of game MVP Franco Harris. "The first Super Bowl, by far, was the most important, just because it was the first," Bradshaw says. "I didn't do much. I just handed the ball off. My involvement was pretty much nonexistent."

"I remember, we were young; we didn't quite know what to expect. ... We were going up against a great defense and didn't want to make mistakes - didn't want to fumble, didn't want to throw interceptions, didn't want to do the turnover thing because we had such a great defense. We wanted to run the ball, run the ball, run the ball."

"There was a lot of pressure. Once I got into the game, I was fine. But there was a lot of pressure to win that first Super Bowl, primarily for our owner, Mr. Rooney, because he was such a great guy, just a wonderful guy. We wanted to win it for him, and we were confident. I know our defense was confident. Offensively, I'm sure we just had to run the football. We had to do what we did that got us there."

By contrast, the Steelers used the passing game in Super Bowl X the following year to dispatch the Dallas Cowboys 21-17 in an exciting game that came down to a final-play interception. "We, in that game, made the big plays throwing the football, as opposed to running it," Bradshaw recalls, "because Dallas came in and said, 'We're going to take away the running game. We're going to make them beat us with the pass.' And that's what we did."

(Wide receiver and game MVP) Lynn Swann had a phenomenal game, absolutely phenomenal game, and we caught them on one big play in the fourth quarter, and that gave us the lead, and then we held off Roger Staubach at the end. But we made the big plays in Super Bowl X throwing the football, primarily with Lynn making great catches. Even before the half, if I'd have had the ball out another yard, it would have been a footrace to the end zone because he was open by a stride and made a great catch. The picture you see on the cover of Sports Illustrated, if that ball had been another yard out, I'd have caught him dead stride. But that was a game where we did it with the pass. We did what we had to do to win the football game, and that's the mark of a great football team. You take out something, something else has to take place, and so in that game, we emerged with big plays."

Is 'Desperate' Denton an ex-'Pretender'?

By Jay Robbin
© Zap2it

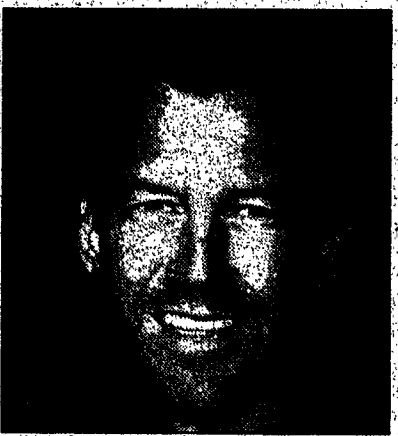

Q I would like to know if James Denton, of "Desperate Housewives," is the same actor who played "The Pretender." Shirley Hadju, Chico, Calif.

A He didn't play the title role - that was Michael T. Weiss - but as James Denton, the actor was a regular on that series as the sinister Mr. Lyle. Between that job and his current one, he also appeared on the ABC shows "Philly" and "Threat Matrix."

Q We love "CSI: Crime Scene Investigation." We know the star of the show, William B. Davis, starred in other shows. Can you help us with the names of those shows? Sandi, Charlotte, N.C.

A We'd be glad to if there were any... but there weren't. Except for his work in the occasional TV movie or miniseries, such as "The Beast" and "The Kennedys of Massachusetts," Petersen was almost exclusively a feature-film and stage actor before CBS brought "CSI" his way.

Q During the 1950s, John Wayne starred in a movie called "The High and the Mighty." Why hasn't it been shown on TV or released on video like so many of his other movies? Ben Crist, Coatesville, Pa.

James Denton

A For a long time, the rights to show it were held up by Wayne's estate, but you'll be happy to know the situation has changed within the past few months. Paramount Home Entertainment has acquired the video rights to the much-requested 1954 airplane-crisis drama, which also stars Claire Trevor and Robert Stack - and boasts an Oscar-winning Dimitri Tiomkin music score - and plans to release it later this year.

Q Who is the woman who played Susan on "Seinfeld"? What has she been up to lately? Dennis W., West Bend, Wis.

A The actress in question is Heidi Swedberg, who got quite a bit of guest-star work on other shows from her role as George's (Jason Alexander) bride-to-be... who licked one wedding-invitation envelope too many. Swedberg hasn't done a great deal of work in the past couple of years, but some of her most recent credits are the movies "Dragonfly" and "Galaxy Quest" and guest shots on the series "ER" and

Love is warbling on the airwaves

Peter Reckell

By Paulette Cohn
© Zap2it

Just in time for Valentine's Day, Peter Reckell, wife Kelly, Money-maker, Kyle Lowder, Arianne Zuker, Tanya Boyd and Nadia Bjorlin display their singing skills on the new soundtrack "Days of our Lives: Love Songs," a compilation of romantic tunes composed for the show. It's available at www.amazon.com.

There also is love in the air at "All My Children," where Justin Bruening (Jamie Martin) proposed to Alexa Havins (Babe Chandler) in real life after taping a scene in which their characters got engaged on the show. The couple have been dating for the past eight months.

Over at "The Young and the Restless," Eric Braeden celebrated his 25th anniversary as Victor Newman on Feb. 1.

Dear Paulette: I watched Brittany and Bobby's wedding on "The Young and the Restless" during which she recited a beautiful poem. I missed the first part of it. I sure would love to know the title and author so I could find it. Thank you very much. -Nancy G. via Internet

Dear Reader: The poem is "Love's Coming" by Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Dear Paulette: I have been watching "Days of our Lives" for well over 30 years, and can usually follow what goes on through the years. But one thing has me puzzled. Billie gave birth to Georgia in the bayou, and Georgia was supposedly buried there by the woman who assisted in her delivery. Please tell me why, then, did Billie go visit a grave in the Salem cemetery with the name Georgia Brady on it? I think the writers goofed. -Anonymous via Internet

Dear Reader: I checked with the writers, and here is what they had to say: It is true Georgia was originally buried in the bayou, but during a storm, her coffin washed up in the swamp, so Earl sent it to Salem for reburial.

This is when Bo and Hope found out the truth about when the baby died. Originally, Billie had lied and said that the baby died after a fight she had with Hope.

Now we know that the baby didn't really die but was the victim of another DiMera plot against the Bradys.

Family Best Bets

Sunday

5 p.m. on FAM

Movie: Winning London

In this straight-to-video 2001 movie, Mary-Kate and Ashley Olsen star as sisters who head to London with their school's Model U.N. team for an international competition. Along the way, one sister romances an aristocratic Brit, while the other sets her sights on a cute teammate. Co-starring are Eric Jungmann, Brandon Tyler, Jesse Spencer and Rachel Roth.

Wednesday

1 p.m. on USA

Movie: I.Q.

Walter Matthau stars as Albert Einstein in this 1994 campus-based comedy. Determined to put a little romance into the life of his brainy niece (Meg Ryan), the physicist helps a handsome mechanic (Tim Robbins) convince her he's a scientist instead. Lou Jacobi, Gene Saks and Joseph Maher also star.

2 p.m. and TVLND

Highway to Heaven

Helen Hunt guest stars as Lizzy, a ranch hand who falls in love with Garth Armstrong (John Hammond), a former childhood nemesis, in Part 1 of "Thoroughbreds." Jonathan and Mark (Michael Landon, Victor French) are on hand to encourage the relationship, but an unexpected medical crisis threatens the young people's future together. Noble Willingham, Stephen Elliott and Richard Bull also guest star.

Thursday

1:45 p.m. on HBO

Movie: The Next Karate Kid

Pat Morita returns as karate teacher Mr. Miyagi. In the fourth installment, he has a new pupil: 17-year-old Julie (Hilary Swank, "Boys Don't Cry"), whose grandfather saved his life in the war. Orphaned, Julie is a basketful of rage until Miyagi takes her under his wing, teaching her to channel her energies, respect all life and, if absolutely necessary, kick some you-know-what. Michael Ironside co-stars in the 1994 drama.

2:30 p.m. and BRAV

Movie: Patton

George C. Scott refused the Oscar he was awarded for his 1970 performance as the controversial World War II general — which isn't to say that he deserved it any less. He makes that evident from the first scene of the film, in which he makes a memorable speech in front of a huge U.S. flag. The film also was named best picture. Karl Malden co-stars as Gen. Omar Bradley.

Saturday

8 a.m. on HALL

Movie: Annie

Oscar winner Kathy Bates plays cruel orphanage boss Miss Hannigan in this sparkling remake of the Broadway musical. Alicia Morton (Broadway's "Les Miserables") stars as the optimistic orphan whose fortunes change when she's taken in for the holidays by rich Daddy Warbucks (Victor Garber). Alan Cumming, Audra McDonald and Kristin Chenoweth also star, with a cameo appearance by the all-grown-up Andrea McArdle, Broadway's first Annie.

10 p.m. on AMC

Movie: On Golden Pond

Henry Fonda and Katharine Hepburn won Oscars for their performances as Norman and Ethel Thayer in this 1981 classic based on Ernest Thompson's play. As the Thayers return to their summer cottage in the twilight of their lives, they are joined by their daughter, Chelsea (Jane Fonda), her new boyfriend (Dabney Coleman) and his son (Doug McKean). But the serenity of the country setting cannot mask the conflict between father and daughter in this bittersweet story.

TV Trivia

Kenneth Branagh ("Hamlet") was born in Northern Ireland then moved to England as a child, where he adopted an English accent.

John Gielgud ("Merlin") promised his parents he would succeed as an actor by age 25; if not, he agreed to become an architect.

Billy Crystal ("City Slickers") attended New York University's film school, where he studied to be a director under Martin Scorsese.

Jack Lemmon ("Some Like It Hot") taught himself to play the piano and supported himself as a pianist after his service in the U.S. Navy.

Julie Christie ("Doctor Zhivago") was born in India but educated in England and had dreams of becoming a linguist or an artist.

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC My Wife and Kids

Jay (Tisha Campbell-Martin) is going away for a weekend of yoga and meditation and wants Michael (Damon Wayans) to come along. He's not thrilled with the idea but agrees to accompany her. He probably should have stayed home, as it's a silent retreat and he's having a big problem keeping his mouth shut. T.J. Thyme ("Erin Brockovich") and Jennifer Elise Cox ("The Brady Bunch Movie") guest star in the new episode "Silence is Golden."

7 p.m. on 19-PBS Nova

The new episode "The Viking Deception" tackles a centuries-old mystery: Did the Vikings really beat Christopher Columbus to the Americas? The clue at issue is a map allegedly drawn by the Vikings that appears to show North America's eastern coast. It has been extensively tested but yielded no conclusive answers. This episode offers some new evidence that indicates the map may be a forgery — but forged by whom? And why?

7:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC George Lopez

In the new episode "Sabes Quake," an earthquake rocks the family's world and causes George (George Lopez) some emotional aftershocks as he flashes back to a traumatic childhood "experience." Co-stars: Maricela, Maricela.

George Lopez

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC According to Jim

In the new episode "A Crying Shame," Jim (Jim Belushi) gets all teary-eyed watching a "chick flick" that Cheryl (Courtney Thome-Smith) has brought home. Cheryl has always maintained that a guy who can cry is sexy, so she's a bit taken aback to realize that Jim's sensitive side is turning her off. Kimberly Williams-Paisley and Larry Joe Campbell also star.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS The Amazing Race 6

From Scandinavia to Senegal and beyond, the race is nearly run, and it's down to the wire. In the sixth-season finale of the globe-trotting game show, only one of the original 11 two-person teams will remain at the end, and that lucky duo wins the

$1 million prize. Phil Keoghan hosts the new episode.

9 p.m. on 26-ABC NYPD Blue

An Army sergeant is murdered, and Clark (Mark-Paul Gosselaar) suspects the killer is the brother of a soldier who died in Iraq. The death of a homeless man, whose body is found in a garbage bin, has the detectives baffled. Madavoy (Gordon Clapp) gets an irresistible offer from his new girlfriend (guest star Mary Page Keller). Dennis Franz also stars in the new episode "Sergeant Sipowicz' Lonely Hearts Club Band."

9 p.m. on TMC Movie: Taxi Driver

Director Martin Scorsese was honored at the 1976 Cannes Film Festival for this dark film about a cabdriver whose lonely existence causes him to withdraw and break with reality. Robert De Niro and Jodie Foster earned Oscar nominations for their respective performances as the title character and a child prostitute whom he befriends. Cybill Shepherd, Harvey Keitel and Albert Brooks also star.

9:10 p.m. on TBS Movie: Pleasantville

Writer-director Gary Ross earned wide acclaim for his visually inventive 1998 comedy-fantasy. Tobey Maguire and Reese Witherspoon play modern teenagers transported through a television screen into the literally black-and-white world of a 1950s sitcom. William H. Macy, Joan Allen, Jeff Daniels and Don Knotts co-star.

NASCAR Racing

Before getting down to the serious business of Daytona 500 preparation and Nextel Cup points collecting, NASCAR's top drivers compete in the Budweiser Shootout, an all-star race featuring 2004's pole winners and past Shootout winners. Among those seeking a cut of the $1 million-plus purse are Nextel Cup defending champion Kurt Busch, Jeff Gordon, Dale Earnhardt Jr., Ryan Newman and Jimmie Johnson. The 70-lap race covers 175 miles at Daytona International Speedway.

7 p.m. on AMC
Movie: The Natural

Fans of the Bernard Malamud novel were upset by the revision of the ending, but director Barry Levinson's 1984 drama works perfectly as a vehicle for Robert Redford. He stars as a baseball player whose first stab at the big leagues is ended by his encounter with a beautiful woman (Barbara Hershey). Years later, he resurfaces to play for a professional team. Glenn Close, Kim Basinger and Wilford Brimley co-star.

7 p.m. on HBO

Movie: Lackawanna Blues

S. Epatha Merkerson ("Law & Order") heads up a large and diverse ensemble cast in this new drama adapted from an off-Broadway one-man show by Ruben Santiago-Hudson. She plays Nanny, the operator of an upstate New York rooming house and unofficial mom to all who reside there or just pass through. Louis Gossett Jr., Macy Gray, Mos Def, Jimmy Smits, Marcus Carl Franklin, Patricia Wettig and Rosie Perez also star.

8 p.m. and HALL

Movie: Family Plan

Tori Spelling stars in this new romance as Charlie, a single woman who tells her family-minded new boss (Greg Germann, "Ally McBeal") that she's a wife and mom. When the boss becomes her neighbor, she has to find herself a family — fast. She borrows a friend's daughter and hires an actor (Jordan Bridges) to pose as her husband. It's the weekend before Valentine's Day. It's the Hallmark Channel. Need we say more?

9 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Desperate Housewives

Ryan O'Neal guest stars in "Your Fault" as Lynette's (Felicity Huffman) father-in-law, whose visit leads to her discovering a family secret. A request from John's (Jesse Metcalfe) parents (Kathryn Harrold, Mark Harelik) shocks Gabrielle (Eva Longoria). Susan (Teri Hatcher) worries as things heat up between Julie and Zach (Andrea Bowen, "Cody Kasey"), while Rex (Steven Culp) tries to rekindle the flame with Bree (Marcia Cross).
